

NEWSLETTER APRIL 2024

Dear Parents and Caregivers,

I hope the Spring break was a time of relaxation and renewal, allowing you to return to our school community refreshed and energized.

Upon our return, we eagerly anticipate our cherished tradition, the Day of Suwewtwew, scheduled for the first Friday back. This day promises an array of captivating cultural activities, meticulously crafted to celebrate, and honour our local Indigenous heritage while enriching our students' understanding and appreciation of diverse cultures.

In the spirit of collaboration and engagement, I invite all interested parents to join us for a Parent Advisory Council (PAC) meeting on April 12th, hosted in our school library at 9:00 am. Your valuable insights and contributions are integral to the continued success and growth of our school community.

Furthermore, I am delighted to share news of our upcoming school-wide art project, a testament to the creativity and talent flourishing within our student body. The unveiling of this project promises to be a highlight of the spring season, showcasing the artistic prowess and collaborative spirit of our students.

Lastly, mark your calendars for April 22nd, as we have a professional development (pro-D) day scheduled. This day presents an invaluable opportunity for our dedicated staff to engage in continuous learning and professional growth, ultimately benefiting the entire school community.

Should you have any inquiries or require assistance, please do not hesitate to reach out to me at mbrogan@sd73.bc.ca or by phone at 250-672-9916. Your feedback and engagement are deeply valued and appreciated.

With sincere gratitude for your unwavering support and commitment to our shared educational journey,

Mikel Brogan, Principal
